Character reference

Renovating an older bathroom presents challenges but also opportunities, says interior designer Jenny Burgess of Perth's Texture Studio. Her client, the owner of a 1920s house, wanted to retain the charm of its ensuite (left) while upgrading the facilities. "A frameless shower keeps the space visually open," says Jenny. "Glossy subway tiles and oversized hexagons on the floor bring the tiling into the 21st century. The owner was keen to incorporate the existing vanity into the new design; all other fixtures were from Reece." texturestudio.com.au

LEADING EDGE

With lovely rounded contours and elegant lip edging, the new 'Cameo' basins are both modern and refined. Designed by Prospero Rasulo for Valdama and available exclusively through Parisi, there are seven sizes in the collection, each available in gloss or matt white and black or stunning 'Nuvola' (cloud). They can be either wall or bench mounted. From $695; parisi.com.au.

39 ALWAYS CONSIDER THE IP RATING OF A BATHROOM LIGHT; THE HIGHER THE NUMBER, THE BETTER ITS PROTECTION FROM WATER AND DUST. 'CORA' IP44-RATED WALL LIGHT (LEFT), $367, LIGHTCO; LIGHTCO.COM.AU.

40 NORDIC VANITY

Embrace Scandi-style clean lines with Beaumont Tiles' new 'Nordic' vanity, from $2150. It features push-to-open drawers and comes in four sizes from 900-1800mm. beaumont-tiles.com.au

PORCELAIN PROPORTIONS

While subway tiles have shown no sign of diminishing in popularity, manufacturers are playing with dimensions (while sticking to classic subway proportions) and finishes. These 'Poitiers' 300x75mm porcelain tiles, $70/m<sup>2</sup>, feature a glossy glaze and gentle dimpling that bounces light around the bathroom.
