1. Neff

Neff has cleverly combined the sleek look of the more contemporary induction hob with gas cooking on the N 70 T29DA69NO. It features FlameSelect technology, which is claimed to offer more accurate and consistent cooking results. The digital display adds a modern twist to the traditional gas hob, along with a residual heat indicator to increase the safety of the appliance. 2. MIELE

The Generation 7000 collection of Miele appliances has drastically changed domestic life, with the Home Conn@ct function. It means the dishwasher can be started no matter where you are. It also features AutoDos, which automatically selects appropriate resource use, and a PowerDisk which contains a month's worth of detergent. With an A+++ -10% energy rating, it means the appliance is not only practical but efficient too. Find out more technical details at www.rdr.link/KI011

3. VALDAMA

The Acquerello basin range from Italian bathroom manufacturer Valdama features a whole host of stunning pastel colours with contrasting drain covers. They are all available in a choice of matt or gloss finishes, so offer versatility to any space. The countertop design of these sinks creates an eye-catching and minimalist look for any modern bathroom, offering more space surrounding the basin as well as storage underneath.
